Praised for its innovation, artistic vision, and raw emotionality, the collection receives early acclaim from esteemed literary sources.

INTENSIA's introductory publication, WORDS TO THINK. OR TO SING., was awarded the Literary Titan Gold Book Award this August 2025 in the Poetry category. The Literary Titan Book Award honors poets who demonstrate exceptional artistry and proficiency, pushing the boundaries of language and expression. It celebrates voices that evoke emotional depth, provoke thought, and contribute boldly to the literary landscape. In addition, Words to Think. Or to Sing. has been nominated for the Eric Hoffer Award in the Art category, which recognizes books capturing the experience, execution, or demonstration of the arts. The nomination reflects the work's originality and artistic relevance, bridging poetic language, imagination, and emotional resonance.

The book offers a glimpse into the mind and soul of a pop music artist before the music is even released. Readers' Favorite calls WORDS TO THINK. OR TO SING. "One of the most unique forms of artistic expression seen in a book. A mesmerizing collection of unreleased songs in their lyrical form, exploring themes of unfulfilled relationships, transformation, remembrance, and self-empowerment. " while Literary Titan writes, "It reminds one of flipping through a notebook someone left behind on a park bench. Strange, funny, haunting, and kind of thrilling. Artists, songwriters, or anyone who finds beauty in passing moods and broken lines will find gold in here."

INTENSIA on WORDS TO THINK. OR TO SING.: "I like that this book is just the beginning and not the end, as it usually is after finishing a read. There is still so much to discover and experience together. I wish for these poetic verses to linger longer, connect deeply, and spark reflection and inspiration. Music has always been profoundly meaningful and empowering to me. I would be honored to become a long-time pop music companion to the readers."
